Structure, governance and management

The Trust Deed is dated 3 December 1997, and the charity was registered on 22 July 1998.

The management of the Trust is carried out in accordance with the Trust Deed, and in particular, when it is necessary to appoint a new trustee, a Special Meeting of the existing Trustees is held to discuss and agree any appointment.

Many of the Trustees have had experience of running various aspects of one of the university branches, and/or have experience of visiting and working with the NGOs we support in various countries.

Most of the Trustees stay in the post for more than four or five years, but inevitably people have, sometimes, to move on as their job moves to another location or they acquire other time-consuming responsibilities.

While this is not a requirement of the Trust Deed, the trustees themselves donate the money needed to cover all the expenses involved in running the Trust, so that we can say honestly that "ALL the money raised by the branches, and other money donated, goes directly to the charities/NGOs we support".

Risk management

In relation to the Trust Funds, the trustees seek to minimise any risk which would prevent us from sending the funds raised to the NGOs we support. In particular we have taken steps, as discussed under our grant making policy, to smooth out the spikes in our income (which are unavoidable) so that we can offer consistent support where we have promised to do this. In addition we keep in close touch with our branches to ensure that they are properly, ethically and responsibly run, and that they keep appropriate records of their activities.

Objectives and activities

The Trust objectives are:

- to promote any charitable purpose for the benefit of 'street children', and in particular, but without prejudice to the foregoing
- to relieve poverty, sickness and distress;
- to preserve and protect health; and,
- to advance education.

Its area of operation is worldwide, and its activities are described below.

The Trust is run by a group of Trustees who meet about eight to ten times a year to coordinate the activities of branches. Each branch is run by its own committee with the twin objectives of raising awareness amongst students and other appropriate groups about 'street children' issues, and of raising money for the NGOs we support who are working to improve the prospects for the street children in their area. The branches encourage students to get involved:

- in understanding the situation of street children in different countries; and,
- in taking action which will help the children to have opportunities for education and healthcare by raising funds which are in turn used by local NGOs who work effectively to provide appropriate facilities and support.

At the year-end, there were SSSK branches in:

Cambridge University
Edinburgh University, and Oxford University

and at

St Paul's Boys School in London, and
St Paul's Girls School in London.

We are actively looking to increase the number of universities and schools where SSSK can be represented. We are members of the Consortium for Street Children.

The Trust maintains a website whose prime aim is to provide background information for students. It is continually updated with recent resources and articles about work done by various NGOs with street children, and studies undertaken by organisations such as UNICEF. The site also provides information about the activities of the NGOs we support, and a contact address for getting in touch with the Trustees.

Grant making policy

The policy of the Trust is to support NGOs who have been visited by SSSK branch members and/or Trustees. We also try to provide consistent and sustainable support wherever possible. We normally meet once a year during the summer to determine our grants, following the circulation of a discussion paper.

During the financial year 2014/2015 we made grants totalling £20,650 to eleven different NGOs in Cambodia, Colombia, Ethiopia, Guatemala, India, the Philippines, South Africa and Vietnam. Some of this was in the form of ongoing grants, and some donations were regarded as being a 'one-off'. Due to annual fluctuations in income, it is part of SSSK's policy to retain a significant balance at year end to ensure we are able to continue supporting our regular beneficiaries even when donations and branch income are lower than expected. At financial year end 2015 SSSK held a balance of £17,196.

Achievements and performance

The trustees and the branches have had a busy year. Most of the branches managed to maintain their level of activity, although as with all student organisations there is a yearly change of personnel, and branch sustainability and the gathering of a new committee to take it on during the following year is an ongoing challenge.

Financial review

This is the tenth formal Trustees' Report to be submitted to the Charity Commission with certified Financial Statements. It is worth reviewing the recent history of the Trust. The gross income and expenditure of the Trust during the (financial) year ending in October 15th in each case is as follows:

Financial year end	Gross income £	Total expenditure £
2000	2,524	1,500
2001	2,171	1,500
2002	2,160	2,138
2003	5,098	6,151
2004	7,317	800
2005	2,763	9,237
2006	19,848	12,700
2007	45,509	21,700
2008	18,553	20,130
2009	26,801	24,458
2010	16,612	29,131
2011	11,983	14,064
2012	11,581	13,820
2013	15,113	12,600
2014	29,340	25,303
2015	15,195	21,300

The financial statements submitted here for 2015 show the gross income of the Trust to be £15,195 and expenditure to be £21,300. The sudden annual increase in income during 2007 was the result of a contribution from a one-off event, as explained in the 2007 Annual Report. The increase in income during 2014 resulted from a one-off contribution through Oxford University Rag.

Within these figures, all the direct expenses incurred in running the Trust are paid for in full by contributions from the Trustees themselves, as stated under Structure, governance and management.

In the Financial Statements, the monies coming from the branches are described as 'Restricted Funds' all of which go to the NGOs, while the money contributed by the Trustees is described as 'Unrestricted Funds' which can be used as necessary to cover the direct expenses involved in running the Trust and its website. It is the policy of the Trustees to retain no more than £1,000 in unrestricted funds each year which is deemed sufficient to cover the running of the charity. To avoid a surplus of restricted funds over this level, the Trustees deem the relevant amount of grant expenditure in the year to be charged against unrestricted funds.

Investment policy and performance

Funds are held in an interest bearing accounts with the Charities Aid Foundation and the Cooperative Bank, and this resulted in a £4 contribution to our income.

Reserves policy

The Trust does not intend or need to hold any long-term reserves, as our funds are intended to go directly to the NGOs we support. However, because of the spiky and slightly uncertain nature of our income, the Trustees decided to smooth out the grants made over a two or three year period as discussed under our grant making policy.

Plans for the future

The Trust aims to ensure, as far as possible, the sustainability of the various branches in both schools and universities, and to look for opportunities for starting new ones. It aims to grow organically, and at a pace which it can sensibly cope with. The Trust is anxious to ensure consistent support to the main NGOs which it supports, although one-off grants are considered where appropriate. It seeks to maintain as far as possible the personal links with the NGOs supported, and either Trustees or student SSSK members are encouraged to visit whenever possible (albeit at their own expense).

Many students are interested in volunteering in various ways both as a direct way of helping development work and of learning more about it. While we are not able to offer volunteering opportunities ourselves, we are building a list of appropriate NGOs who offer volunteering opportunities. We are passing this information on to any student enquirers.

The Trust is registered with the Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator.

Trustees' responsibilities

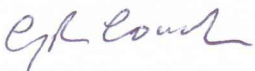

The trustees are responsible for producing the Annual Report and accounts in accordance with applicable Law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice. Charity law requires the trustees to prepare accounts for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the results of the charity for the year. In preparing these accounts, the trustees are required to select suitable accounting policies and to apply them consistently; make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 15 OCTOBER 2015

I report on the accounts of the Trust for the year ended 15 October 2015, which are set out on pages 8 to 10.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act') or under Regulation 10(1)(d) of The Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 ('the 2006 Accounts Regulations') and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act and section 44(1)(c) of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 ('the 2005 Act');
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission and is in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present 'a true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the next statement.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements
- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act and section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations; and

- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act and section 44(1)(b) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations;
- have not been met; or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
